Benefits of in-home childcare

- Experts have found that if children are raised by caring and attentive adults in a safe, stable and predictable environment they are more likely to become better learners in school.
- Parents have more control over the type of care their child receives.
- One-on-one care and interaction gives babies a sense of self-worth and security.
- Dedicated interaction increases language skills.
- Children are exposed to fewer viruses in their own home, meaning they stay healthier (and parents miss less work).
- In-home care provides flexibility. Having a nanny allows families to eliminate the stressful morning and evening rush to pick-up/drop-off at daycare, giving you more quality family time.
